

Legacy Builders

Hendricks Regional Health Legacy Builders are individuals who have made a commitment to assure the continuation and expansion of services and programs at Hendricks Regional Health.

By making a gift provision to Hendricks Regional Health Foundation through a bequest, trust, annuity, insurance, retirement plan or other estate or future gift commitment, members of this group help extend the reach of exceptional health care programs and maintain services for everyone who needs them. It is a tremendously generous and far-sighted way to continue a personal legacy of giving and community support.

Names of Legacy Builders are featured on a recognition wall in the hospital mezzanine area, on the Foundation's web site and in published donor listings. Members receive newsletters and other publications and event invitations.
